

DESMOND GRUNDY: ABOUT

Desmond Grundy is a songwriter, guitarist, and producer from Canada whose work blends rock, pop, and literary-minded storytelling. His catalogue spans more than a decade of independent releases, each marked by sharp lyricism, textured guitar work, and a craftsman's attention to arrangement.

Across his career, Grundy has built a reputation for pairing melodic immediacy with narrative depth — songs that feel lived-in, observational, and quietly cinematic. His work appears across multiple platforms, including streaming outlets and curated music blogs, and he continues to evolve as both a performer and producer. His discography is also featured on platforms like Qobuz and AllMusic, underscoring his presence in the broader indie rock landscape.

"Music started with friends, playing and making ourselves happy, singing and being goofy and mimicking our favourite pop stars. I tend to remain true to that mind set." ~ DG, 2026

Sounds-like: 70s, 80s rock with modern tech overtones, simple melodies and contemporary, story-telling lyrics. Similar to Tom Petty and Lou Reed; but also The War on Drugs, Todd Rundgren, Luna, The Dandy Warhols & Iggy Pop.
